

FORTY KNOWN DEAD IN HOLOCAUST AT SEA LAST EVE

EVERY AGENCY IN CHICAGO IS SEEKING KILLER

Arrest of Every Gangster and Hoodlum Is Promised

BULLETIN

Chicago, June 11—(AP)—Chief of Detective John Stege informed the City Council shortly after 1 o'clock today he will have all known gangsters and hoodlums in Chicago in jail within six hours. He ordered all veteran gang fighters of the police department to band together in squads of four and scour the city immediately.

Stege's order followed a verbal exchange with Alderman Arthur F. Albert, in which the latter called him "ridiculous and a bunk artist."

Chicago, June 11—(UP)—Sam Hunt, dapper henchman of "Scarface Al" Capone and hunted by all law enforcement agencies as a suspect in the assassination of Alfred Lingle, Chicago Tribune reporter, was surrendered to police today by his attorney.

Hunt, said by two secret witnesses to resemble the lone gangster who murdered the newspaper man Monday in a pedestrian subway, was accompanied by former Alderman John J. Connelley and Ralph Pierce, night club owner identified with Ralph Capone, brother of Al.

Cool and poised, Hunt, who jumped bond on charges of being one of the "gold-bag" killers in one of the recent dozen gang killings, chatted with reporters as he awaited the arrival of Commissioner John Stege, for questioning.

Fear "Ride" For Killer
"I wouldn't be here if I had anything to do with bumping off Jake Lingle," Hunt said.

He smiled when he noticed reporters watching to see whether he was right or left handed. A glove for the left hand was discarded by the killer.

"No, I'm right-handed," he laughed, "you can't pin that rap on me."

Johnny said he surrendered Hunt for fear "the gangsters would take him for a ride to seal his lips" and he wanted "this charge cleared up."

The "ride," contingency already had been suggested by the police. They said if the hunt became too hot they feared gangsters would deal out justice to the Lingle murderer themselves to avoid any chance of detection.

REWARDS TOTAL $55,000
Chicago, June 11—(AP)—A reward of $55,000 hangs today over the head of the man who murdered Alfred (Jake) Lingle.

The Tribune, for whom he worked as a reporter, was first, offering $25,000 for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the killer. Its morning competitor, The Herald and Examiner, today had added another $25,000, and the Evening Post has offered $5,000.

The slaying of Lingle Monday afternoon in the Illinois Central subway at Randolph street has been followed by such concerted public and official indignation as has seldom been provoked here in recent years.

The murder, as Coroner Herman N. Bundesen pointed out, demands solution because it is the first in which gangland has dared to shoot down in its sensational manner a respected citizen. Invariably before it has been gangster shooting down gangster. The public has refused to become excited over such murders.

The public attitude has been, as the Coroner said, that a gangster slain is a good riddance.

Respected Man Victim
But now the authorities have for solution the murder of a man widely known and respected, shot down, without warning in the presence of several hundred persons within a block of the busy loop at the peak of the day.

The hunt for the killer, proceeding from the State's Attorney's office, police headquarters, the Coroner's office and independent agencies, is being pushed with deadly earnestness. Results of search are being kept secret—an unusual procedure in Chicago crime investigation. Clues are being guarded so as no word of the progress of the inquiry will get to the killer.

The inquest yesterday was adjourned after three witnesses had been heard. Coroner Bundesen said he had important information which he did not want revealed at this time. Pat Roche, age of the State's Attorney's staff, was hunting a left handed gang gunner who he believes is the man who killed Lingle. He would not name him, but he emphasized the fact that the glove discarded by the slayer was for the left hand.

Cincinnati Bank's Shortage $623,000

Cincinnati, Ohio, June 11—(UP)—The Cosmopolitan Bank & Trust Company, which with its seven branches was closed yesterday, placed its shortage at $623,000 today after a preliminary audit.

Two weeks or more will be required, said O. C. Gray, Ohio Banking Superintendent, before investigators will learn the full extent of the alleged check manipulations of Amos W. Schafer, with which the tangled finances of the bank are closely linked.

Schafer, 57, a week district manager of Henry L. Doherty & Co., distributors of Cities Service Company stock, faces grand jury investigation through a warrant charging embezzlement of $10,162 from the Doherty firm. It was intimated today that Schafer, whose operations are alleged to have involved the bank and the stock house to the extent of $1,000,000 or more, may have had accomplices in his dealings.

The bank's shortage virtually wipes out its capital, surplus and undivided profits, which on March 27 totaled $637,377. Approximately $115,000 in collateral held by the bank can be used to reduce the shortages.

"Smoke" Dispensers On Bowery Raided

New York, June 11—(AP)—Accused of selling poisonous liquor, 36 proprietors, bartenders and bouncers from "smoke" shops along the Bowery were under arrest today.

Spurred by 32 deaths within a month from poisonous alcohol and other deadly concoctions dispensed to Bowery habitués at 14 and 25 cents a drink, Major Maurice Campbell, prohibition administrator, led 50 federal agents in a series of raids yesterday on the drinking haunts of the down-and-outers.

The agents dressed in shabby clothes and with two-day beards on their faces visited drug stores, paint shops and speakeasies, purchasing samples of "smoke," so-called because of its clouded, milky appearance, and arresting the dispensers.

Two agents who disregarded a warning from Major Campbell and drank some of the stuff reported sick at prohibition headquarters.

The raiders said they found scores of patrons of the Bowery drinking dives lying in drunken stupor in the sawdust which covered the floors. These men were carried out of the places by the agents before they arrested the owners and employees.

Policeman Fired For Exacting Toll

St. Louis, Mo., June 11—(UP)—Found guilty on a charge of beating a saloon keeper who failed to increase the amount of protection he was paying, Patrolman John Forkham has been dismissed from the St. Louis police force.

Although Forkham denied the charge he was dismissed after a hearing before the Board of Police Commissioners yesterday.

The complaining witness was Ernest Trova, who testified he ran a saloon. Trova testified that he had been paying Forkham $5 a month for protection. Forkham insisted that the amount be raised to $30, Trova said. When he refused the increase, Trova said, Forkham summoned him into the basement of the saloon and beat him.

The hunt for the killer, proceeding from the State's Attorney's office, police headquarters, the Coroner's office and independent agencies, is being pushed with deadly earnestness. Results of search are being kept secret—an unusual procedure in Chicago crime investigation. Clues are being guarded so as no word of the progress of the inquiry will get to the killer.

COUNCIL TAKES NO ACTION ON STREET SURFACE

Matter Was Discussed At Regular Meeting Of Commissioners

Louis Vernier and George Haberer owning property on North Peoria avenue, south of Everett street, along the line of the present street-open city appeared before the council last evening and objected to the settlement received for their property. They sought an adjustment of valuations in conformity with adjoining properties in the spreading of assessments for the improvements which are now being made, including paved streets and cement sidewalks. The council as a body took no action on the objections.

Commissioner John Loftus urged taking immediate steps in outlining a program for the resurfacing of the brick-paved streets at least in the business section of Dixon. Mayor Palmer advised taking more time and called attention to the expense of levying an assessment in the event that the resurfacing plan did not prove popular with the property owners. Contractor S. D. Hicks of Moline, who was present at the council meeting, gave information concerning the resurfacing material, which he stated would cost approximately one dollar per square yard.

It was estimated that a move will be started at once to ascertain those in favor of the resurfacing plan.

Many Streets Unmarked
Commissioner Loftus also called attention to the unmarked condition of the streets of the city and urged that something be done this summer to remedy this situation.

"I find that I do not know all of the streets in Dixon and quite often I start out to find some street and have to inquire where it is. How is a stranger in the city going to find an address or a street unless the streets are marked?" Commissioner Loftus asked.

It was estimated that it would cost the city approximately $3,000 to properly mark the streets and after a brief discussion, the board adjourned without taking any action.

The board of local improvements convened following the council session and voted to issue two vouchers, one in the sum of $1,200 under local improvement ordinance No. 254 and the other in the sum of $14,449.90 in favor of the S. D. Hicks Construction Company under local improvement ordinance No. 252.

Members of the board also discussed the paving of a strip, 600 feet long and 36 feet in width on West Water street in front of the new high school property, which is to be financed by the board of education.

A special meeting of the entire council was to be held this afternoon at 2 o'clock at the city hall to consider the annual appropriation ordinance, some of the city departments seeking larger appropriations with which to carry on the 1930-31 program.

Mr. Hughes will remain aboard until August 12 when he will return to New York City. He plans to address the American Bar Association in Chicago on August 25. He will permanently locate in his new home on R Street.

Killed Mad Dog In Amboy Timber

Harry Brogan and brother, who reside south of Amboy, while spending a day recently in the timber near their place, saw a dog running at large, frothing at the mouth and snapping at objects, and suspecting the animal was mad they cornered it and finally killed it with clubs.

Whether the supposedly mad dog bit any other animals remains to be seen and a careful watch will be kept in that vicinity.

WOMAN, BENEFICIARY IN ESTATE VALUED AT $3,000,000 IS SOUGHT

A long distance telephone message received yesterday afternoon at the office of City Treasurer Miss Eleanor E. Powell, from Clarendon, Ark., requested that an effort be made to locate Annabelle McKay Brown, who was believed to be a resident of Dixon or to have lived here at one time.

It was not known, according to the word from Clarendon, whether the woman was single or married or whether she was living or dead, but the inquirer was very anxious to secure some information which would lead to locating her.

Miss Powell conducted an investigation through numerous local agencies but was unable to locate the woman in question. She telephoned this information to Clarendon last evening and was informed that the woman who was being sought, was an heiress, had been named as beneficiary in a three million dollar estate, and that it would be necessary that she be located at once in order to receive her share of the amount.

In her inquiries, Miss Powell found many who were willing to impersonate Annabelle, but none knew of any such person having resided here at any time.

SOME SUPERVISORS EVIDENCE OPPOSITION TO GRAVEL ROAD BUILDING WITH GASOLINE TAX

Think Permanent Improvement Should Be Made on Co. Highway

Some of the member of the Lee County Board of Supervisors are not content with the action taken by the body at the March meeting in outlining approximately 26 miles of county highways, on which the county's share of gasoline tax is to be expended. An undercurrent of dissatisfaction has been apparent from the time the resolution was adopted by the board and several of those who voted for its adoption are now bitterly opposed to the expending of the sum for gravel roads.

The opposition to the graveling of a 26-mile strip of county highway across the county strongly favors permanent improvement of the road with cement. Practically every foot of the road which has been laid out to be improved by the gas tax is now a gravel road which is a part of the county patrol system and is in good condition. The provisions of the state highway department require the tearing up of a large portion of the road included in the gas tax route and replacing it with the same material of which it is now constructed.

Avoid Maintenance.
A strong argument in favor of the cement highways in preference to the old style gravel road, is the fact that after a concrete highway is constructed in conformity to the state requirements, the county building the road is exempt from further expense in its maintenance. Upon the completion of the cement road and its acceptance by the state, the latter is required to accept the road and maintain it. It has been estimated that from the amount of gasoline tax received by Lee county at least two miles of cement paving could be laid each year.

Suggestions from other members of the board who favor the completion of a long stretch of cement paving, provide for the anticipation of fuel tax refunds for Lee county over a period of years and in lieu of that amount, proceeding with an immediate extensive road building campaign, using a permanent road building material, cement being favored, with the present gravel road forming a base for the permanent covering.

At yesterday afternoon's meeting of the board, Supervisor David H. Spencer of this city presented the plat of the Martin addition with a request that the board vote to annex that section to Dixon township. The board voted unanimously in favor of the annexation.

TAX OBJECTORS FAILED TO BAR ATTORNEY SMITH

Motion That He Be Not Allowed To Aid Atty. Keller Overruled

A motion to prevent Attorney Clyde Smith from appearing with State's Attorney Mark C. Keller in hearing of tax objection cases in the county court, was presented to Judge Leech by Attorney H. A. Brooks and Edward Jones this morning. In the objection, Attorney Brooks challenged the right of the Board of Supervisors of Lee county to employ special counsel in the tax objection cases, holding that the board was without power to appoint such attorney to perform the duties of the State's Attorney. He argued that the board by such action was usurping the power of the court and acted without authority in the expenditure of the public funds in the payment of such special counsel.

"Mr. Keller is the State's Attorney of Lee county and is competent and able to perform this duty and it is his duty to prosecute suits in behalf of the county at all times. He has been 'Johnny-at-the-rat-hole' in all previous cases and I do not mind saying that he has made things plenty busy for me," Attorney Brooks stated in closing his argument. He also cited several cases to substantiate his objections to Attorney Smith appearing in the cases which number more than a thousand.

Attorney Smith replied by stating that the question of compensation was not before the court and that he was making no desperate effort on his own behalf to appear in the suits. State's Attorney Keller also spoke in defense of the action of the board in employing special counsel to assist in the prosecution of the tax cases.

Objection Overruled.
Judge Leech in ruling on the motion, ordered that the records show that no objection to Attorney Smith's appearance was made when the docket was opened Monday and that the record also show that the objection be overruled on the grounds that when the cases were called there was no objection filed.

Supervisor D. H. Spencer of Dixon was called to the witness stand by Attorney Brooks in presenting his argument to the court objecting to the special counsel. The supervisor testified that he was a member of the special committee of the board, which about a month ago selected Attorney Clyde Smith to assist in the tax objection suits, and stated that the matter of compensation had not been considered by this committee.

The court room was crowded to the doors by interested citizens who listened attentively to every question asked by the attorneys. The Board of Supervisors convened at 9 o'clock and transacted some business, then adjourning until 2 o'clock this afternoon to permit the members to attend the tax objection hearing.

Attorney Donald Kirkpatrick of the firm of Kirkpatrick & Jenkins of Chicago appeared with several other attorneys who represent more than a thousand tax objectors. Charles R. Leake of this city was the first to be called this morning when the docket was opened.

A question to the court as to the manner in which the cases would be tried brought the response from State's Attorney Mark C. Keller: "I appear as the servant of Lee county and am ready to try each of the cases separately."

County Treasurer Called.
County Treasurer Dorrance S. Thompson was the first witness called. In response to questions by the State's Attorney, he stated that Charles R. Leake had paid all of the taxes assessed against him with the exception of the 1 1/2 cents on the $100 assessed valuation.

County Clerk Fred G. Dimick was the next witness called and interrogated by Attorney Kirkpatrick. Records of the Board of Supervisors for the September meeting in 1926 were read in the court which provided for the passage of tax levy for tuberculosis sanatorium purposes. The records of the September meeting in 1929 were also introduced and (Continued on page 2).

BISHOP CANNON AGAIN REFUSES TO MAKE REPLY

Voluntary Appearance In Lobby Committee Today A Surprise

Washington, June 11—(UP)—Bishop James Cannon, Jr., returned to the witness stand voluntarily before the Senate Lobby committee today but continued to decline to answer certain questions pertaining to his activities in the 1928 presidential campaign.

The Methodist Bishop, whose return as a witness occasioned considerable surprise in view of his dramatic "walkout" last Thursday, based his refusal on the fact no decision had been reached concerning the committee's authority to question him on political matters.

Today's developments left the examination of Cannon virtually where it was when the dry leader refused to appear further unless subpoenaed. The committee, prior to Cannon's appearance, had held a brief executive session in an effort to decide what action, if any, should be taken against the Bishop on contempt charges, but no decision was reached.

A quorum of the committee was present today when the Bishop refused to answer the question where as Senators Walsh, Dem., Mont., and Blaine, Repn., Wis., had been present last week. Cannon, who was instructed to appear again tomorrow had previously stressed the absence of a quorum in defending his "walkout."

TRAINED SHEPHERD DOG GUIDES HIS BLIND WORLD WAR VETERAN MASTER
Olathe, Kas., June 11—(UP)—Erich, a shepherd dog, guided his blinded World War veteran-master into court today to vindicate his profession.

By Erich's presence and his master's testimony, attorneys for R. L. Gray, vice-president of the Sheffield Steel Corporation, hope to prove that the steel man's hobby of training dogs to act as "eyes" for blind veterans is not a nuisance, as charged by suburban residents of Kansas City, Kas.

Erich's almost human intelligence has delivered F. R. Fitzpatrick, Salina, Kas., real estate man, from a state of dependence by guiding him safely through days of business and lines of traffic.

Fitzpatrick came into court to tell how much Erich meant to him.

Erich is the first dog Gray's trainer, Albert Henze, has brought to perfection but several others are learning rapidly. And Erich probably will be the last to come from the school if the court action to abolish or remove the kennels is successful.

Gray said.

Impersonated Woman To Fleece "Swains"

East St. Louis, Ill., June 11—(UP)—Testimony was to be continued here today in the trial of Andy Kmetz of Benton, Ill., who the state alleges obtained railroad fare from several prospective husbands under the guise of a mail order wife. The specific charge against Kmetz is using the mails to defraud.
John Palsa, a 50 year old widower of Carlisle, Ark., testified as the trial opened yesterday that his advertisement for a wife was answered by "Emily Kmetz of Benton, Ill." She declared herself a matrimonially inclined widow of 49, Palsa said.
Palsa sent the woman $35, including a check for $19 and a money order for $16, after he received the second letter from the woman asking for that amount in order that she might come to him.
The woman never came, Palsa testified, but the check he had sent her for $19 came back to the bank marked $100.
Kmetz is said to have admitted to J. A. Thompson, postoffice inspector of Centralia, Ill., that he wrote the letters.

Mrs. Jones was charged with throwing hot lye on her husband, George Jones, during a quarrel.

BOMBING FRUSTRATED.

Inside the rags were four sticks of dynamite, enough to have wrecked the place and endangered nearby property.

DECISIVE TESTS OF DRY LAW ARE BEING PREPARED

Hoover Plans Campaign With Transfer Of Enforcement

BY RAYMOND CLAPPER
United Press Staff Correspondent
Washington, June 11—(UP)—The Hoover administration is preparing for the big decisive test of the prohibition law which will begin with the transfer of prohibition enforcement machinery from the Treasury Department to the Justice Department. J. Edgar Hoover, the next year, perhaps a little longer, President Hoover will attempt to demonstrate decisively whether the Volstead act is workable or whether there must be a change. It is unlikely, according to informed quarters, that any fundamental changes will be proposed before the results of that test have been made clear.
Revamping of the enforcement machinery, coming after the first decade of federal prohibition, is regarded in informed quarters as one of the most significant milestones in the nation's long struggle with the drink question.
Experts in the Justice Department and the Treasury are now drafting regulations and orders in preparation for the transfer. Control of industrial alcohol and medicinal permits will remain with the Treasury but all permits must be issued subject to joint approval by the two departments.
Prohibition Commissioner Doren is not expected to shift over to the Justice Department. Although no announcement has been made it is expected Howard Jones, for years in charge of liquor prosecutions in the Justice Department, will be new Prohibition Commissioner under Assistant Attorney General Youngquist, who will have general supervision.

To Eliminate Friction
The big improvement expected is that the collection of evidence and the prosecution of cases will be concentrated in one organization. At present the Treasury's prohibition agents get the evidence and the Justice Department attorneys prosecute.
There is frequent friction between the two organizations which, it is hoped, will be eliminated. Under the new policy it is expected more attention will be given to key cases, big conspiracies and liquor rings, and less to petty violations, which it is believed, would be automatically cut off with efficient enforcement at the source.
The President regards the Justice Department experiment as a challenge to his ability as an administrator and realizes that success would solve the prohibition controversy to a large extent. If failure results, the administration believes that most ardent drys will then become convinced some change is necessary.
Such appeals as that of Chairman Wickersham of the Law Enforcement Commission to shift attention to education against drink in the hope of breaking away from the current tendency to place entire dependence on law are expected to have, first, the effect of reinforcing enforcement efforts by cultivating more general sentiment against drink, and second, of relieving the pressure of drys for more and more stringent laws. Thus, it is believed the way will be made easier in event the administration should feel compelled to advocate a change later on the source.

TANKER BURST INTO FLAMES IN COLLISION

Apparently in panic and crazed by their burns, several persons leaped into the blazing sea. Among the seven passengers who were missing were four women. Eleven members of the crew disappeared.
Fairfax Returned
A little after 10 A. M. the Fairfax, charred, broken and scarred tied up to the dock which she had left gaily 18 hours before with a party of vacationists lining the rails, now charred and twisted on the port side.
When the gangplank lowered, no one was allowed aboard except Supervisor Inspector Oscar G. Haines of the United States Steamboat Inspection Service, Captain Charles M. Lyons, local inspector, and officials of the company.
The oil fire had left its mark from stem to stern on the port side. Paint was blistered and burned away, windows and ports were smashed by the heat, and it was obvious that no lifeboats could have been lowered on this side of the vessel for the davits and ropes were burned away and the boats warped. One was smashed.

Theories At Variance
Police Commissioner William Russell, close friend of Lingle's for many years, does not hold with the theory that the murder was a gangland deft to press and public. Both he and his Chief of Detectives, John Stege, are conducting their investigation in the belief that a personal grudge not connected with gang activities motivated the murder. They do not believe that Lingle was assassinated for "knowing too much" about Chicago gang plots and plot-
The Tribune, discussing the slaying editorially, said:
"The challenge of crime to the community must be accepted. It has been given with bravado. It is accepted, and we'll see what the consequences are to be. Justice will make a fight or will abdicate."
The Tribune accepts the challenge. It is war. There will be casualties but that is to be expected, it is being war.
Public Opinion Fused
Public opinion was fused at white heat, demanding an end of the reign of the gang organism and its hired gunmen.
Aldermen cried out for an investigation of the police.
The press, wounded by the bullet that slew Lingle, with one voice called for lawful retribution and a knell on the "day of blood."
The Evening Post professed to have learned that a killer brought from the east was Lingle's assassin. That a prominent gang leader, at odds with the newspaperman, hired his executioner—and will probably kill the killer to seal his lips forever. This was but another theory, likely enough but unproven.
Another city council committee hearing and a front page editorial of the Chicago Daily News focused the attack on the police officials today.
The News editorial administered severe censure to the officials. It read, in part:
"The heads of the police department in their professed efforts to deal with this unmitigated evil which so besmirches the good name of the city have shown themselves incompetent or worse. The gangsters treat them with contemptuous tolerance . . . their ineffectual motions in the wake of each fresh gang killing are little more than feeble imitations of intelligent effort. Public tolerance with such police service has reached its limit."

resolutions from the proceedings providing for a general tax fund not to exceed 31 cents on the $100 assessed valuation, on September 12; the resolution of September 13 providing for a $10,000 levy not to exceed two cents on the $100 valuation for mothers' and children's aid; the resolution of September 13, providing for a levy of $15,500 at a rate not to exceed three cents on the $100 valuation under the tuberculosis sanatorium fund, and the levy of $66,000 at a rate not to exceed 12 1/2 cents on the $100 valuation for county highway purposes was read.
In the examination of the County Clerk, it developed that an error had been made in which a 48 1/2 cent levy was made against railroad property in Lee county and a 49 cent rate against all other property. The County Clerk was on the witness stand when court adjourned at noon answering questions of Attorney Kirkpatrick.

And daisies blossom all

She passed the brook, and in their

When Eating Is a Bore, Revive Interest

When the mercury rises and nobody seems to want to eat, the life of the cook becomes more difficult. She will welcome these suggestions for stirring up jaded appetites, which he quote from McCall's for July:
"Puzzled, these hot days, about what to have for luncheon or dinner or in-between meals? Here are some easy-to-use recipes, especially planned to tempt summertime appetites."

1 knuckle veal
1/2 teaspoon pepper
1 teaspoon salt

When done, remove the meat and strain the stock. Return the stock to fire and boil until it is reduced to 2 cups. Add the meat, finely shredded. Pour into a loaf pan and chill. HOUSEHOLD SUGGESTIONS—

Fresh Awnings—If your awnings have been stored, brush them thoroughly and remove all spots before putting up. Make sure the rods are bright looking and renew all strings that pull them up or let them down. These little things make for a general appearance of freshness.

Storing Clothes—If you have small space at home and rather valuable winter things, you can have them stored in moth-proof rooms at your local department stores for very little money.

Cool Suppers—For hot nights the family appreciates cool suppers. A model menu consists of some hot soup, like creamed asparagus, a jellied chicken salad, hot rolls, leek or hot tea, and fresh strawberry or raspberry ice.

Crisp Lettuce—Lettuce keeps longer and stays crisper if you wash it, roll it in a dampened cloth and place in the refrigerator in an earthen bowl.

Moth Pursuit—Now is the time to pack away all woollens. Department stores have a wide variety of cedar equipment, tarred bags, and other receptacles that keep clothes and blankets and rugs from the inquisitive and persistent moth.

Tea Leaves—Wet tea leaves are one of the best things in the world to lay dust. If you still use a broom, instead of a vacuum cleaner, sprinkle your tea leaves over your rugs or carpet before sweeping. This also brightens the rug considerably.

Re-making Ensembles—Your long coat from last year's silk ensemble can be cut into a short jacket this summer and the rest of its length used for a deep hip yoke to lengthen last year's short skirt into a modern, fashionably longer one.

Clean Rugs—All rugs should be given a special cleaning in spring. Run the cleaner over them thoroughly, on both sides, always going with the nap. Then wipe over them with a cloth wrung out of clear, warm water. A small, stiff brush will remove dust collected in the ends. If there are spots, remove them as

THE GANGS BREAK LOOSE.

Apparently that peace pact which the Chicago gangs fixed up a month or so ago didn't have enough teeth in it. Maybe it failed because underworld psychology isn't quite ready for a super-state yet, and maybe the boys naturally didn't take it seriously; at any rate, the machine guns are swinging again, and the casualty list is resuming the proportions of the good old days.

So ends Chicago's breathing space, amid a clatter of fire-arms. Dead bodies are being found beside lonely roads once more, and firing squads are on the prowl again; the police are finding "known gangsters" immersed in their own gore, and this, that or the other gang is getting the credit, or otherwise, for this, that or the other murder.

All in all, the city at the foot of Lake Michigan seems to have slipped back to normal; and people who like to be driven to alarm by these violent outbursts on the part of our urban civilization have at hand the material for a new fit of the heebie-jeebies.

We're pretty well used to our big-city gangs now, and they don't worry or shock us as they used to; nevertheless, there's one bit of foggy thinking that these killings bring out, and we might as well take the time to get straight on it.

This particular bit of irrationality is a reflection that generally runs something like this: after all, it is only the gangsters that get killed. Each of these outbursts simply removes from circulation a citizen whom we can very well do without. Why get worried? Isn't it, in the long run, to society's interest to have these yeggs put one another out of the way?

On the surface, that looks reasonable. But it isn't the whole story.

Every gangland killing simply entrenches the gangs more firmly in power. Every time one group of cut-throats machine guns a rival group, it merely convinces every member of the underworld that he and his kind are beyond the reach of organized society as represented by the police and the courts. Every underworld murder establishes the chiefs of gangland, more securely than before, as a law unto themselves.

For those reasons it is impossible for society to derive any satisfaction out of this string of murders.

These killings are nothing but the gangsters' way of making sure that they can continue to prey on society unmolested. There is a new recruit to take the place of every hoodlum that gets bumped off. When we try to tell ourselves that we needn't be alarmed because one more beer-runner has been shot to death we are just kidding ourselves—in a very dangerous way.

THE GLORY OF TEXAS.

Representative Garner's proposal to carve Texas into five new states has a good deal to be said for it, on strictly practical grounds, and doubtless has even more potent arguments from certain political standpoints; but for purely sentimental reasons we hope that nothing comes of it.

Texas, after all, is in a class by itself. Its sheer bigness makes it a unique state. Texans have always gloried in it, and the rest of the country can glory in it likewise. When you talk about Texas you can toss "biggest," "largest" and other superlatives around in carefree fashion. All of which is very stimulating, for some reason or other.

But suppose this tremendous state is sliced asunder to make five new states. Where would our superlatives go then? Why, right out of the window, of course. The prospect is desolating. We need one state of gargantuan proportions; need it for the sake of our national self-esteem.

Our talkie stars, it is reported, are more favorably regarded in England than they are in this country. This convinces us the English are slow to see a joke.

The woman who sued for 25,000 because she was kissed against her wishes was awarded but 6 cents. And certainly that's another smack in the face.

Now that the Navy Department has forbidden girls to kiss Naval Academy seniors on graduation day, you may expect the middies and their sweethearts to turn land lubbers.

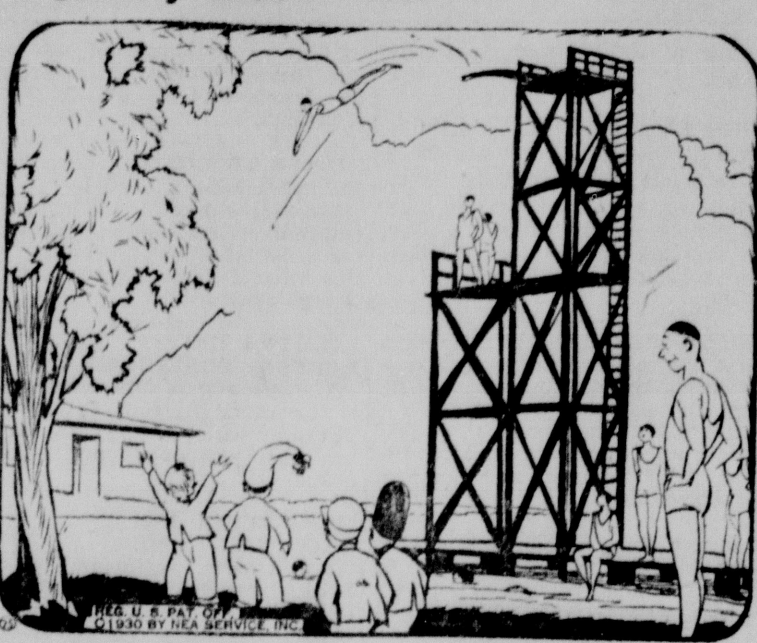

Scientists now declare that there is vegetable but no human life on the planet Mars. The pity of it is that so much spinach has to go to waste.

This is the time of year when the back-seat driver calls your attention to that ingenious, oddly-named Inn at the right.

The only difference between the recipient of an ordinary college degree and an honorary degree is a good paying job.

The fact a hotel porter in Detroit made $12,000 a year in tips suggests he carried in his pitcher something more potent than ice water.

THE TINYMITES

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

Wee Scouty said, "Oh, I just wish that I could carry those fine fish. I'll take them right to our hotel and then we'll have a treat. Imagine trying them just right. Oh, my! That whets my appetite. The way I feel right now, there's nothing I would rather eat."

And so that night they had a meal, cooked up just right, that tasted real. "There's nothing like a fish fry," shouted Clowny. "Gee, it's good!" Then all was quiet, for a while. The Travel Man had to smile to see them eat. Each Tiny-mite ate every bit he could.

That night was spent in slumber sound. Next morning they were running round and working up an appetite for breakfast, yet to come. The Travel Man soon called the bunch and said, "Say lads, I have a hunch that now you'll all eat twice as much. That's where you're smart, not dumb."

When breakfast, very soon, was over they started on a hike once more.

The Travel Man said, "We will go out to one of the lakes. It isn't very far from here. In fact, by auto, it is near. We'll jump into a cab for fun, and see how long it takes."

Ten minutes later they were there. "Oh, my," cried one, "What wondrous air. And, look, a man is diving from that great big towering stand. Let's stay right here and watch him go. I'll bet it will be quite a show. He will not splash much water if he knows just how to land."

The man then sailed out through the air. His diving form was really rare. "Oh, what a beauty," Carpy cried. "And what fine strokes he makes!" The Travel Man then told them all that, from the spring time till the fall, the Finlanders all loved to swim. The land was full of lakes.

TODAY IS THE ANNIVERSARY

WARREN'S BIRTH

On June 11, 1741, Joseph Warren, noted American patriot, was born at Roxbury Mass.

He graduated from Harvard in 1759, and five years later became a physician in Boston. When disputes first arose between the colonists and the British government Warren associated himself with Samuel Adams and other ardent Whigs. He was the orator at the second anniversary of the Boston Massacre, March 5, 1772, and again at the third anniversary, refusing to be intimidated by the threats of the British officers.

Warren had much to do with the success at Lexington on April 19, and in June was commissioned major general. He opposed the occupation of Charlestown heights on the grounds that the American supply of ammunition was too small. Overruled by a majority of the council, which resolved to fortify Bunker Hill, he went there as a volunteer, refusing to take chief command. He was killed during the battle of Bunker Hill June 17.

BET ACREAGE UP

East Lansing, Mich.—(UP)—An increase of 35,000 acres of sugar beets over last year's crop is expected to be a substantial contribution to the nation's sugar bowl, the farms crops department at Michigan State college predict. Favorable weather has enabled growers to plant their crop at an earlier season, thus enabling them to enlarge this year's acreage, the department states. This year's acreage will be 90,000 in Michigan.

A THOUGHT FOR TODAY

Go to now, ye rich men, weep and howl for your miseries that shall come upon you.—James 5:1.

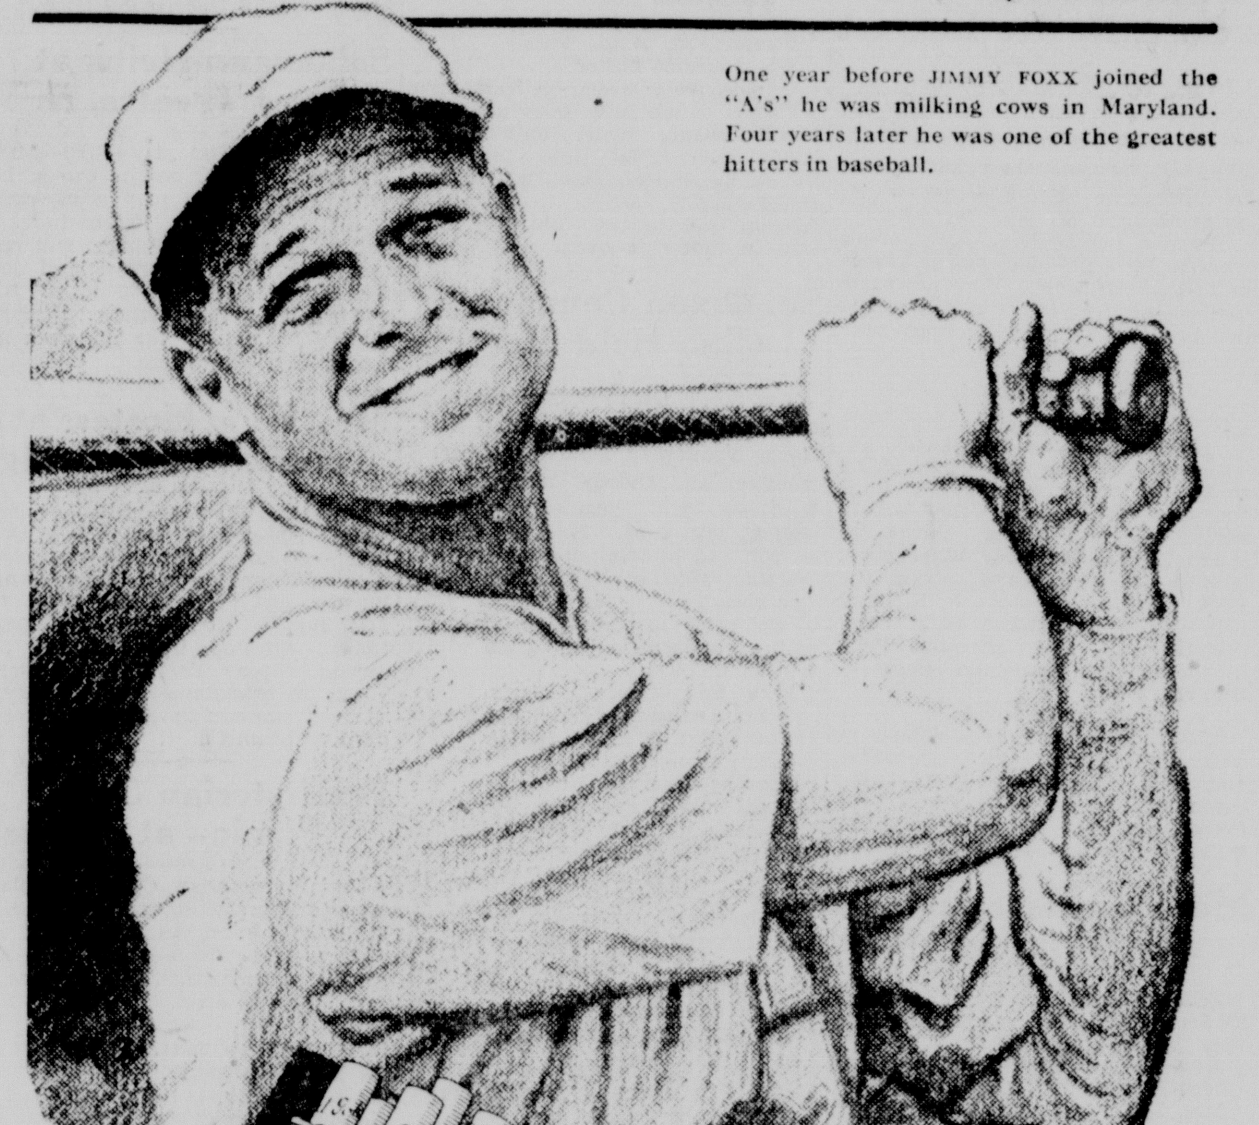

Riches do not exhilarate us so much with their possessions as they torment us with their loss.—Gregory.

FORTUNE DWINDLES

Cleveland—(UP)—Relatives of Valentine Christ, Cleveland recluse who died in 1910 leaving real estate valued at millions of dollars, will get only a few thousands from the vast estate. Common Pleas Judge Frank Phillips upheld the validity of a will found 15 years after Christ's death, under the terms of which two nephews, John and Oliver Christ, and a niece, Mrs. Ethel Schamadan, receive the bulk of the fortune. The court held, however, that innocent purchasers of land contained in the Christ estate could not be made to surrender their holdings. As most of the land was sold, the three beneficiaries will receive only a few small parcels of property and some personal effects, the total value of which is only a few thousand dollars.

HEART DISEASES IN CHILDREN

By James M. Anders, M. D.
Philadelphia, Pa.

(This series of articles is prepared under the direction of the Gorgas Memorial Institute, which is organized to perpetuate the life work of the late Major-General Gorgas in preventing unnecessary illness. The headquarters of the Institute are at 1331 G Street, N. W., Washington, D. C.)

At the outset I wish to stress the fact that heart diseases are on the increase. There are no available measures that will surely prevent them, but both the medical profession and the public can carry out certain known preventive means that will bring about a lessening of the number of deaths from this cause. These means differ when dealing with children from those applicable in adults.

In children the principal causes of heart disease are acute rheumatism, St. Vitus' dance, and tonsillitis. Rheumatism is often preceded by, or associated with, tonsillitis. The so-called growing pains of childhood are often of rheumatic nature and lay the foundation for heart disease. These should therefore receive appropriate medical care with the certainty that in this way a number of cases of heart disease will be avoided.

Children subject to tonsillitis or harboring infected tonsils should have their tonsils removed and thereby prevent a certain number of cases of acute rheumatism which, during childhood, starts up heart lesions from which recovery is rare. Nothing short of complete removal of the tonsils, however, is effective. If stumps are allowed to remain they often become infected, with effects similar to those of infected whole tonsils. Certain acute infections of childhood may be followed by chronic incurable heart disease. When such infections as acute rheumatism, typhoid fever, diphtheria, scarlet fever and tonsillitis become complicated with a cardiac lesion, the lining membrane of the valves and cavities of the heart become acutely inflamed.

If little sufferers thus afflicted are given absolute rest in bed long enough, a considerable percentage of them will escape the incurable chronic heart disease that otherwise inevitably follows. The amount of rest necessary varies with the condition of the heart and that can be judged only by the physician. The child may therefore fully recover, if wisely treated. Unfortunately, these rheumatic attacks often recur, and with each attack the heart may sustain further damage. If rheumatic pains recur after recovery in your child, send for the physician at once. Again, if your child has had rheumatism and then does not gain in weight, is pale, has a poor appetite and fever, he may be starting a fresh attack, or may even at this time have serious heart trouble. From efforts to prevent heart disease much more is to be expected during childhood than during adult life.

Children whose hearts are already damaged present the same problems as to their general health as other children. In them it is especially important, however, to build up natural resistance to infection, so as to prevent further damage to a diseased heart.

Louis Wiley, business manager of the New York Times, says:

"A newspaper's greatest asset is the confidence of its readers. If it is not able to obtain that confidence, it is of little value as a public force, and not of much value either to the advertiser in its columns."

"The newspaper which acquires and retains the good will of thousands of intelligent readers may be said to be representative of the highest type of journalism. Intelligent readers are able to distinguish between fair, accurate news and inaccurate reports, and the confidence of such readers is the greatest measure of good will a newspaper can possess. It is a high endeavor for a newspaper to seek to serve such readers and constantly to merit their approval."

"Many speak of the sins of the press. I do not defend all newspapers, nor do I sympathize with some of the trends in journalism today. The intelligent reader, however, does not lack opportunity to read good, honest newspapers for worth while news and information of educational value.

"Newspapers are not in price competition. The best cost no more than the less desirable newspapers which flaunt lurid crime and sex stories and exclude news of genuine value to readers interested in the progress of civilization."

"THE READER SHOULD BLAME NO ONE BUT HIMSELF IF HE DOES NOT READ A GOOD NEWS PAPER."

Three New Yachts To Be Given Tests

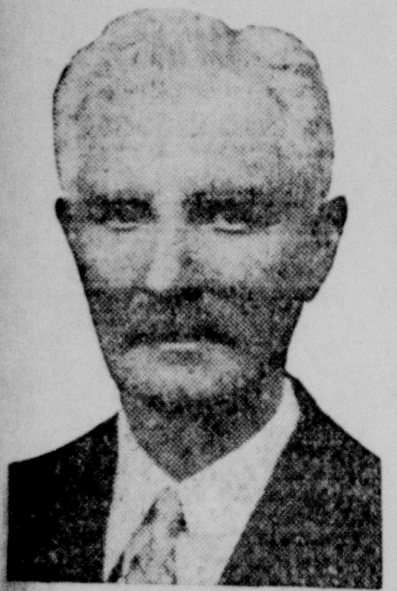

New York, June 11—(UP)—Three yachts built for defense of the America's Cup, and the 1920 defender Resolute and her rival Vanitie were scheduled to meet today in the New York Yacht Club regatta off Parsonage Point.

The race marked the first meeting of the new cup defenders, Enterprise, Wetmore and Whirlwind. Only Yankee, the Boston syndicate's candidate, was not to sail. Yankee will arrive in New York next week to participate in other races.

Today's races are of little importance.

CLINTON MAN SAYS KIDNEY TROUBLE HAS DISAPPEARED

Can Now Sleep Soundly All Night Without Tiring Interruption.

DAVID GRAY.

"I have suffered agonies with kidney and stomach trouble," said David Gray, who lives at 819 16th Avenue, Clinton, Iowa. "I had a sharp shooting pain across the small of my back that at times was almost unbearable. Food never digested properly and gas that formed as a result of this undigested food pained me terribly. On account of the weakened condition of my kidneys I would have to rise several times during the night. This broke up my sleep and always made me feel tired and worn out in the morning."
"I read and heard so much about Kavatore that I decided to try it. I'm certainly glad I did because now after taking only a small amount I feel like a new person. My stomach and kidneys are in fine condition. Thanks to Kavatore."
Kavatore has relieved many people of the common ills and ailments as rheumatism, neuritis, constipation, nervousness, stomach, liver and kidney trouble and the like.
Kavatore is sold by the best druggists in Dixon and in all towns throughout this entire section.

BY ALAN GOULD
Associated Press Sports Writer
New York, June 11—(AP)—In the most interesting and most extravagantly ballyhooed fistic affray since the late Tex Rickard pulled the strings of the heavyweight Punch and Judy show, Jack Sharkey will fight Max Schmeling tomorrow night, 15 rounds or less, at the Yankee Stadium for the "heavyweight championship of the world."

It is by all odds the most significant heavyweight bout since the retirement of Gene Tunney, but whether the winner will be recognized outside of Germany, Lithuania and the United States remains to be seen.

With any kind of an even break from old man weather a crowd of 75,000 fans probably will pay in excess of $700,000 to see the big show. This is a far cry from the figures attending the last of the outstanding Rickard extravaganza on Chicago's Lake Front in 1927, but it excels anything on the books of the heavyweight business for the past three years.

Two Main Questions.
Today the two main questions up for debate among the railbirds are: First, can Schmeling carry the fistic heights that three previous foreign challengers, Firpo, Carpenter and Heene, failed to reach? Second, can Sharkey overcome the temperamental jinx that has seemed to pursue him in international competition and fight at his best?

The claims from one corner that Schmeling will win if he crowds and harasses Sharkey from the outset are countered by the cries that the Teuton will have his ears cuffed off if he mixes too willingly.
The belief that Sharkey is due for one of his good fights and, therefore, will emerge the winner is offset by his record of consistently putting up mediocre bouts against rival rivals.

Record Not So Good.
Sharkey has fought his good fights almost exclusively against the domestic punch absorbers. His most impressive performances were scored against Harry Wills and George Godfrey, the so-called black menaces; Jim Maloney and Tommy Loughran, representing the Irish-American contingent.
Against this, there is Sharkey's record of being knocked out early in his career by Romero Rojas, the Chilean, beaten by bounding Johnny Risko, the Austrian Baker Boy; held to a draw by old Tom Heene, the New Zealander; victor over Phil Scott, the Englishman, in a very questionable bout at Miami where Phil might easily have been declared the winner on a foul, whether or not he was hurt by Sharkey's low blows.
This information may be food for the lunch-players, even though not consoling to the patriots, who will consider it a national calamity, scarcely less important than the Wall Street crash, if the heavyweight title is lost to America.

Baseball Gossip

BY UNITED PRESS
Walter Johnson's Washington Senators today moved into Chicago, hopeful of strengthening their hold on second place in the American League race, while their strongest rivals—Philadelphia and Cleveland—hook up in a three game series at Cleveland.

The Senators have lost eight of their last ten starts, the slump costing them the league lead and leaving them only 1/2 game ahead of the third place Indians. McPhee, while Cleveland has won 11 out of 14 games and is only three games behind the league leading Philadelphia Athletics.

Cleveland won two consecutive games from the Senators but rain washed out the other two games of the series and enabled Washington to leave Cleveland holding second place by an uncomfortably small margin.

Philadelphia's lead was cut to 2 1/2 games yesterday when the Athletics dropped an 11 inning battle to Chicago, 7 to 6. Lefty Grove, who entered the game as relief pitcher in the tenth, was charged with the defeat—his first loss of the year.

Herb Pennock pitched the New York Yankees to a 5 to 3 victory over St. Louis.

Boston pounded four Tiger pitchers for 17 hits and Boston defeated the Tigers, 12 to 6.
The St. Louis Cardinals defeated Boston, 2 to 1, for their second victory in 14 starts and took undisputed possession of fourth place in the National League race. Each team made seven hits.

Philadelphia defeated the Chicago Cubs, 6 to 2, in the only other National League game. Chuck Klein led the Phils' attack with a homer and double.

Tannery Has Rail Birds "On Fence"

Chicago, June 11—(AP)—Tannery, temperamental three-year old, has the rail bird squawking.

Rated highly by thousands, he ran a poor race in the Kentucky Derby. Still rated highly and backed by more than thousands, he ran just as badly several days ago in an overnight handicap at Washington Park. Yet he stepped out in the American Derby trail at Washington Park yesterday and simply smothered a fast field, trimming Ned O. third place winner in the Kentucky Derby, by five lengths.

Tannery paid $8.16 to win, $5.30 to place and $2.32 to show.

Gallant Fox and His Rival To Meet Again

Chicago, June 11—(AP)—Gallant Fox and his most formidable three-year old rival, Whirlwind, will meet again in the second annual running of the American Classic at Arlington Park, July 12, officials of the Chicago track have been advised by owners of the two thoroughbreds.

The Classic, a gallop of one mile and a quarter for three-year olds, will have an estimated gross value of $86,900 of which $70,000 will be added money. Ten are expected to start. Blue Larkspur won the inaugural running, winning over a field which included Clyde Van Dusen, Windy City and Dr. Freeland.

Over Fifty Boys In Telegraph B. E. School

Fifty applications had been received today for the Evening Telegraph baseball school of instruction which will open tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 at the independent field on Van Buren avenue and Eighth street with Ward Miller as the instructor. More than half this number of boys had reported to William Powers of Amboy, where the first course of instruction will also be given tomorrow afternoon at the high school athletic field.

The course is not confined to boys residing in the cities in which the schools will be held but to all boys 13 of the county. For convenience, four cities of the county have been selected, centrally located that all boys in the various townships may reach one of the points. One hour's instruction in proper batting stance and the correct way to run bases will be the first information to be imparted to the candidates both at Dixon and Amboy tomorrow afternoon. Boys are requested to bring their own bats and gloves, the baseballs being furnished by The Telegraph, sponsor of the course.

Shires Benched By White Sox Manager

Chicago, June 11—(AP)—Arthur "The Great" Shires is again warning the White Sox bench.

The White Sox first baseman was forced out of yesterday's game with the Athletics when he was hit in the face by a ball during batting practice and "Bud" Clancy stepped into his role and won the game in the eleventh inning.

Injury or no injury, Shires is determined to warn the bench for some time as his batting average is less than his last winter's fighting mark.

Genaro Again Wins From Canadian Boy

Toronto, Ont., June 11—(AP)—Once again Frankie Genaro, recognized as the flyweight champion by the traditional boxing commission, has thwarted the attempt of Albert (Frenchy) Belanger to regain the crown that formerly rested on the Canadian's head.

Genaro retained his national boxing commission title last night with a slashing ten-round victory over Belanger. The diminutive Toronto fighter had the best of the argument for four rounds but thereafter Frankie displayed the speed and cleverness that has carried him to the top of the division.

The fight was a speedy affair from the start to the finish, but the champion forged ahead slowly and surely in point scoring as the end drew in to view. Late in the fight Genaro scored repeatedly with left jabs and a powerful over hand right.

Wrigley And Insull In Racing Business

Chicago, June 11—(AP)—William Wrigley, Jr., owner of the Cubs, and Samuel Insull, multi-millionaire public utilities owner, have gone in for horse racing.

They have been elected directors of the Arlington Park Jockey Club, which operates Chicago's mammoth northside track. Their addition to the directorate gives the fashionable plant one of the heaviest financial backings in the world.

The board membership is composed mostly of Chicago millionaires.

Senate To Vote On Tariff Bill Friday

Washington, June 11—(AP)—The tariff bill will be put to its ultimate test in the Senate, the long awaited final vote, at 2 o'clock on Friday.

If it is approved, and there are many who predict a margin of one or two votes will settle the question, it will be brought up in the House on Saturday and a final roll call taken there.

Thus, allowing for the time taken by necessary congressional formalities after passage, the measure, unless defeated in the Senate, is expected to reach President Hoover some time on Monday.

After considerable argument, a unanimous consent agreement was reached in the Senate late yesterday fixing the Friday voting hour. An earlier time was opposed by a half dozen members who said they had engagements which would prevent their attendance today or tomorrow. Senator LaFollette, Republican, Wisconsin, an opponent of the measure, said it was appropriate the vote should come on "Friday, the thirteenth."

South Africa has been expanding its poultry industry, rapidly, a recent estimate showing more than 4,800,000 chickens in the Transvaal and Orange Free State.

If you are a "bug" on economy—

—we'd like to talk to you.

Even if you have a remarkable economy record, you'll be astonished to learn how little more you'll pay to keep a Cadillac or La Salle going over the "long haul."

And that's what counts. Not the first 1,000. But 10,000, 25,000, 50,000 miles.

If you'll check all factors, from monthly payments to overhauling, you may discover that the money you've spent on your present car would make you a Cadillac or La Salle owner.

If this idea seems interesting, drop in and talk it over.

REGULAR TESTS FOR MOTORISTS URGED BY HALL

The State Health Director
Tells Of Need Of Examinations

Springfield, Ill., June 11.—(UP)—Periodical medical examinations for motorists were urged here today by the state health department, as a means of aiding in the prevention of numerous automobile accidents on Illinois highways.

"Eyes, hearing, heart, lungs and kidneys are the principal organs which should be examined to determine factors which exercise a profound influence over the judgment of motorists when instantaneous action is demanded to avoid mishaps," the health department statement said.

As demonstrating the value of periodical medical examinations the health department cited the case of one railroad alone on which there has not been since 1927 a single accident due to the exercise of unreasonably poor judgment when regular health examinations of train crews were ordered.

"On the highways of Illinois the story is different," the department's statement continued. "Of 2,017 fatal motor car accidents last year, 591 may be classified as due to the exercise of poor judgment. They resulted from such things as collisions with steam trains, 199; collision with electric trains, 72; collision with fixed objects, 61; overturned automobiles, 187; speeding 17; skidding 55.

"At the University of Illinois 174 faculty members and employees were physically examined before allowing them to drive university automobiles. There were 24, one in 7, who needed glasses and didn't know it. It was deemed hazardous for 8 of them, one in 22 to drive without glasses to correct serious visual defects. There were five, one in 35, whose visual defects were so serious to permit driving even with the aid of glasses. One was otherwise physically unfit for driving an automobile.

"The best insurance that motorists can buy is a physical examination just prior to starting a trip of any extent."

The 1930 census gives Bloom Center 341 population, same as it had in 1920, so I guess all the boys that went to the big cities to "accept" remunerative an important positions are back with us again. SERVING MANY BUSINESSES

Experience of large fleet owners reveals the unusual reliability and economy of the new Ford

A SIGNIFICANT TRIBUTE to the value of the new Ford is found in its increasing use by Federal, state and city governments and by large industrial companies which keep careful day-by-day cost records. In most instances, the Ford has been chosen only after exhaustive tests of every factor that contributes to good performance—speed, power, safety, comfort, low cost of operation and up-keep, reliability and long life.

Prominent among the companies using the Ford are the Associated Companies of the Bell System, Armour and Company, The Borden Company, Continental Baking Corporation, Firestone Tire and Rubber Company, General Electric Company, Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company, Kellogg Company, Knickerbocker Ice Company, Morton Salt Company, Pillsbury Flour Mills Company, The Procter & Gamble Company, and Swift & Company.

Each of these companies uses a large number of Ford cars and trucks,

The Associated Companies of the Bell System use more than eight thousand.

Modern business moves at a fast pace and it needs the Ford. Daily, in countless ways and places, it helps to speed the production and delivery of the world's goods and extend the useful service of men and companies.

Constant, steady operation over many thousands of miles emphasizes the advantages of the sound design of the Ford car, its high quality of materials, and accuracy in manufacturing. Beneath its graceful lines and beautiful colors there is a high degree of mechanical excellence.

An example of the value built into the Ford is the use of more than twenty ball and roller bearings. They are hidden within the car and you may never see them. Yet they play an important part in satisfactory, economical performance. Their function is similar to the jewels of a fine watch.

Throughout the Ford chassis, a ball or roller bearing is used at every place where it is needed to reduce friction and wear and give smooth, reliable mechanical operation.

At many points, as on the transmission counter-shaft, clutch release, fan and pump shaft, and front drive shaft, these ball and roller bearings are used where less costly types of bearings might be considered adequate.

Additional instances of the high quality built into the Ford are the extensive use of steel forgings, fully enclosed four-wheel brakes, Rustless Steel, four Houdaille double-acting hydraulic shock absorbers, aluminum pistons, chrome silicon alloy valves, torque-tube drive, three-quarter floating rear axle, and the Triplex shatter-proof glass windshield.

The Ford policy has always been to use the best possible material for each part and then, through large production, give it to the public at low cost.

DUCK IS "WATCH DOG". Cincinnati.—(UP)—Edw.-d Schumaker has a watch-duck. The duck's name is "Peep" and although he is not more than two months old, he has already tried to improve on nature by copying the ways of dogs in the neighborhood. Wherever Schumaker goes "Peep" follows, waddling at his heels and lying down at his feet when he stops. If danger threatens "Peep" lets out a healthy "quack" of warning. And Schumaker insists, believe it or not, that "Peep" is beginning to wag his tail when petted.
